After reading books about families, draw and label a picture of their family tree. Go to: http://www.familytreetemplates.net/ for some free templates.

2. Homework: Send the template home. Children will ask each family member, “How do you help your family?” Also, students are asked to bring a picture of their family.
3. Return information to school. Bring to school their results and a picture of their family.
4. Students will share with the class their interview and pictures.
5. Students will create a class book of their families. On the bottom of their family picture the child will write why their family is important to them. The child will also make a picture of their family and place it on the circle with their name on it.

Church - The teacher can choose any of the books below that relate to the theme:

The suggested books for the teacher to read aloud are noted.

- Child’s Guide to Baptism (Stanton) – Read Aloud
- My Baptism Book (Piper) – Read Aloud

This section of the unit will begin by the teacher placing a different colored circle on the bulletin board that will create a portion of a Venn Diagram

6. After reading books about our church community, discuss how we become members of the church community at baptism.
7. Students will role play a baptism. Before students role play, the teacher will show a video of a baptism (try 3:33-5:40 of this video <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LB5zL2apiw>). The teachers will videotape the role playing.
8. Read the story of John the Baptist baptizing Jesus.
9. Teach song - “All are Welcome” to the class. Make a chart about what the song means in the church community.
10. Invite the pastor or deacon as a guest speaker to discuss what their role is in the parish, and who helps them in the parish community.
11. Class will make thank you cards for the priest and parish workers. Additionally, the children will make a picture of the principal and the pastor and compare and contrast their roles under the pictures. These pictures will be placed on the bulletin board.

School – The teacher can choose any of the books below that relate to the theme: The books listed are First Grade level unless otherwise noted.

The suggested books for the teacher to read aloud are noted:

- First Grade Here I Come (Carlson)
- Morris Goes to School (Wiseman)
- It’s My School (Grindley)
- Wow! School! (Neubecker)
- My School Community (Kalman)

This section of the unit will begin by the teacher placing a different colored circle on the bulletin board that will create a portion of a Venn Diagram

12. After reading books about our school community, the students go on a scavenger hunt to discover what jobs people do for the school community. They will collect and identify symbols representing the person’s job to bring back to the colored circle.
13. Upon return, the students chart the jobs of those in our school community, and place them on the colored circle on the bulletin board.
14. Show “Rules of the Classroom” Song; at: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eV-OZc9jcWc> and use Dr. Jean’s “School Rules Rap” handout to discuss school and classroom rules; at: http://www.drjean.org/html/monthly_act/act_2005/08_Aug/rulesRap.pdf
15. Memorize and recite the “Greatest Commandment.” Read the story “Stink Bug Saves the Day” and view the video “Sheerluck Holmes and the Golden Ruler.”
16. Discuss the name of our Catholic school and how it differs from the name of our neighborhood school. Talk about how we got the name of our school, and how it relates to our Catholic community. How is our school special?

Community- The teacher can choose any of the books below that relate to the theme:

The books listed are First Grade level unless otherwise noted.

The suggested books for the teacher to read aloud are noted:
